MACADAMIAS

The Magic of Macadamias ... Inside and Out

It's pretty simple really, we aim to produce the world's best macadamia products, and have a lot of fun doing it.

That's why we started creating extraordinary macadamia products, grown right here on the farm in the Byron Bay Hinterland of Australia. Our macadamia business started in 1987 with the purchase of two adjacent farms in Newrybar. Over the years we have built a reputation as a producer of Australia's finest macadamia products – including cold pressed oil, pure macadamia honey and of course our premium sweet and savoury macadamias, and luxurious body care products.

Now 30 years later, Duck Creek Macadamias is still 100% Australian owned and run, operating from the original farmhouse in historic Newrybar in the heart of the pristine Byron Bay hinterland.

And as we grew, we never lost sight of our farmhouse origins, celebrating the Australian macadamia and of being truly "of and from the farm". Today Duck Creek Macadamias Byron Bay Hinterland farm and production facility are the heart of our operation.

And for you? A truly delicious and healthy, native Australian gourmet treat and body care products to revitalize. We have you pampered inside and out.

As an Australian business, we feel exceptionally fortunate and privileged to take our countries indigenous nut to the world.

Our History

The Duck Creek story started in 1987 on a macadamia farm in Alstonville NSW Australia. On a property located on Duck Creek Mountain, with the Duck Creek running through it, Duck Creek Macadamias was born.

At about the same time, our current Newrybar location was moving from its crop of avocado and stone fruit to macadamias. In 2007 Duck Creek Macadamias moved all production to the Byron Bay Hinterland location it enjoys today.

Our Team

As a team we set out to grow the world's best macadamias, and with these make the worlds best macadamia products.

To make this a reality we have a team with specialist and diverse skills. Our farm management team are industry leaders in the development and cultivation of macadamias, and sustainable farm practices.

Our production team are passionate about taking the world's best macadamia nuts and producing a range of products that delight, inside and out. Industry specialists in running HACCP certified production across a range of disciplines. Our marketing, customer service and sales teams focus on you the customer, to make every Duck Creek Macadamia touch point a memorable one.

Our Farm and Capability

Duck Creek Macadamias in the Byron Bay Hinterland of Australia, is a 230 acre property with over 18,000 trees. Over the years our trees have been replaced with new Australian varieties and vary between 5 years and 30 years old. We currently grow 15 different varieties of Macadamia.

Harvest start and end dates are variable because our different varieties mature at different times, but generally it is between mid March and mid September each year.

The annual Duck Creek Macadamia harvest is sold both as bulk and/or value-added, based on volumes. Our value-added products include goods such as pure oil (Body Care Range and cooking oil), raw, salted and savoury macadamia products as well as our very popular confectionary ranges.

The farm also houses its own bee hives to assist with pollination, a key part of the lifecycle of macadamia trees and the production of premium nuts. An added benefit of the hives is the delicious honey they produce which is also available to customers.

Our products are manufactured from the finest quality raw ingredients by an enthusiastic and talented team who always ensure a superior end product.

Originally working as a small boutique operation, we have evolved into a thriving producer, while still keeping true to our farm house origins. With the expansion of our dedicated chocolate panning area and purpose built hot room for roasting and honey coating, our production capabilities have increased substantially.

New efficient packing machinery ensures that we are able to meet the expanding needs of our ever-growing clientele.

We produce a range of chocolate and savoury macadamia products in our HACCP approved facility with capabilities for contract chocolate coating and packing.

Why Macadamias

Macadamias are a nutritious whole plant food, straight from nature and packed with nutrients. They're delicious little kernels of goodness that nourish from head to toe, perfect as a snack, added to main meals or tossed through your favourite salad.

Macadamias for your health: Full of healthy monounsaturated fats, phytochemicals, fibre, protein, vitamins and minerals, macadamias are good for your heart, digestive health, antioxidant protection and blood glucose management.

Macadamias for your shape: Contrary to popular belief, nuts are not fattening. In fact, regular nut eaters tend to weigh less and gain less weight over time. The healthy fats, fibre and protein in macadamias really satisfy and help resist the urge to overeat. By enjoying nuts such as macadamias, you can improve the overall quality of your diet without gaining weight. They're the ultimate guilt-free indulgence!

Macadamias for your mind: The food you eat is important for your mind and mood, just as it is for your physical body. Studies have found that regular nut consumption reduces the risk of stroke, boosts cognitive function in the elderly and the phytochemicals in macadamias may help to protect the brain from damage over time. Macadamias are naturally free of trans-fats that have been linked to the development of depression while providing healthy oils, fibre and plant sterols to maintain optimal blood supply to the brain and vitamin B1 for nervous system function.

Macadamias for your skin and hair: Australia's wonder oil. Rich in nutrients and vitamins, macadamia oil is a non-greasy, light, high penetration oil, that promotes skin well-being and anti-aging through increased hydration and natural protection barriers.

- Low comedogenic – It won't clog your pores
- A natural replacement for sebaceous oil – Your body's natural oil of youth
- Hypoallergenic and contains phytosterols – Low occurrence of allergic reaction, great for aged, sensitive or irritated skin
- Rich in natural vitamin E – Blocking the free radicals, reducing wrinkles and keeping skin youthful
- Omega 6 linoleic acid – For balancing sebum production and a natural protective barrier
- Omega 7 palmitoleic acid – For wound healing properties
- Squalene – For relief of cracked and chapped skin
